CENTRAL INTELLIGENCE AGENCY

32 CFR Part 1903

Security Protective Service

AGENCY: Central Intelligence Agency.

ACTION: Final rule.

SUMMARY: The Central Intelligence Agency has promulgated regulations which protect its foreign intelligence facilities within the United States. The classified and highly sensitive world-wide activities of the Agency are directed and supervised from these various facilities. Furthermore, all intelligence support functions, including training, for the conduct of the various foreign intelligence activities of the CIA are managed from these facilities. Pursuant to section 401 of the Intelligence Authorization Act for Fiscal Year 1985, the CIA was empowered to promulgate these regulations, which have the force of law and which are effective immediately.

EFFECTIVE DATE: May 6, 1985.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT: David Holmes, Office of General Counsel, Central Intelligence Agency (703) 351-5648.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: On 8 November 1984, Congress enacted the Intelligence Authorization Act for Fiscal Year 1985, which amend the Central Intelligence Agency Act of 1949 (50 U.S.C. 403a et seq.) to permit the Director of Central Intelligence to authorize Agency personnel within the United States to perform functions identical to those performed by special police officers of the General Services Administration in order to protect the foreign intelligence facilities of the CIA.

The legislation empowering GSA special policemen is entitled "An Act to authorize the Federal Works Administrator or officials of the Federal Works Agency duly authorized by him to appoint special policemen for duty upon Federal property under the jurisdiction of the Federal Works Agency, and for other purposes" (40 U.S.C. 318). Under this Act, the Administrator of GSA is authorized to appoint uniformed guards as special policemen. Once appointed, the GSA special police are granted the same powers as sheriffs and constables upon property under GSA charge and control and are authorized to enforce laws enacted for the protection of persons and property, to prevent breaches of the peace, to suppress affrays or unlawful assemblies, and to enforce with criminal penalties any rules and regulations made and promulgated by the Administrator of the General Services Administration.

The Central Intelligence Agency now has the authority to carry out the protective police functions set forth above with respect to property under its charge and control and has promulgated these regulations pursuant thereto.
